A declaration of the use of the two preceding Tables yery profitable and case to the meanest capacity.

I feat any time you would know when it will be full Sea in any time afait and havens of places, and what Poone makes a Full Sea there. Pour must first learne bow old the Moone is, which you shall since in the sirth Columne of the Aimanack over against the Day of the Poueth for this Peare. This age of the Poone, if you seeke in the bead of the Table (on the backe she of this page) intituled. The residue of the Tide table in hours aid minures, guiding your eye bownewards till you come in the tommon Angle over against that signire which directs you to therest of the places in the other Cable, I say under that age of the Moone you shall since Howers Pinutes, which is the time of Full See that day in the Paven besteed.

Tould know at what hourt and minute it will bee full Sea or birb water at London-bubge, the firft bay of Januarythis Deare. Firft, I looke in the Almanack and finde in the firth Columne thereof the number of 7 against the faib first Day of Ia. muary, which theweth that the Boone is 7 Daies old, which number of 7 I finde in the head of the Cable (intituled The refiduc,&c.) places with 22, which theweth that as the Boone ma-Beth Digh water at any place when the is 7 bales old increafing. at the like houre and minute thee maketh it wigh water at the fame place when foce is 22 Dayes old Decreafing. Row guiding mine ere Downemard right in that Columne under the faid 7 and 22 untill I come over against London, and then I finde 8 above and 36 beneath, tehich meterth it cobe full Dea or Diab water at London-bridge on the firft bay of January this Deare at g of the clocke and 36 minutes paft in the mouning and night. and lott is at Tinmouth, Hardepoole, Whithay, Amfterdam, Galcoigne, Brittaine, Galizia. And that a Porth eaft or South-weft Moone makes a Full Sea in any the laid places. Doe thus with any other place : and the Rule is bery caffe, unteffe to him, Cujus manus funt fub pallio, or thofe that pleade ignorance.

Vet you must observe that it floweth one point of the Compasse more in the Spring-tives, that is, at the New and Full Moones, than it both in the Neap tives, that is, at the quarters of the Boone, efpe:fally if it Deen Riber where there is any in-Draught. and that is of good piftance from the Dea; yea when there is neither rage of windes, land floode, no; other caule to produce of binder the laid effect; As for example, It flowethat London-bridge at the Arm of full Moone, when bee is South well og Bouth-eaft : but in the quarters of the Boone it france. ly floweth there when the Moone is South well and by South, or Bouth-east and by Bouth. And this is generally true to evet. So likewife the latitude of the Woone raileth of hindreth the Tibes, for if ther have Porth laritune thee rifeth fooner, and fuings in the Cives earlier, than when the bath South taritude, To allo if the have a fit afpect to Venus in moilt Signes, the tibes entreale, but if to Mars og Samme in Day Signes the Cides Diminifo : Cometimes Land-floods encreale the Eides, and great windes according to their polition bring in or keepe backe the Eipes, thus wefee.

The Sea hath fits; alternate course she keepes; From deepe to shore, and from the shore to deepes. What ere the cause be, it nere resteth stound, But's obbing, flowing, alwaies going round: Sure Cymbia (nights Lampe) with her changefull lawes

Commands the Ocean, and its motion cause.

The Contents of the feverall Columne: in this Almanack.

The first is the Dayes of the Moneth.

Che second is the Dayes of the Weeke, & being the Dominicall or Sunday letter.

The third is Woly Dayes, Saints Dayes &c.

The fourth is the figure and degree the Winne is in at noon. The fifth is the houre and minute of Sun riling at London, which houres and minutes (60 minutes making an houre) if you double make the length of the night; but if you substract the laid houres and minutes from 12 houres, The remainder is San-set, which Sum-set if you double you have the length of the day: as so crample, The first of January the Summer seth at 8 a clocke and 2 minutes, which being doubled is 16 houres 4 minutes: but if you subtract the laid 8 a clocke and 2 minutes from 12 there will remain t 3 of the clocke and 58 minutes the houre of Sun set, which 3 houres and 58 minutes the houre of Sun set, which 3 houres and 58 minutes being nonbled make 7 hours 56 minutes, the length of the day, and so does for any other day

The firth Columne is the Age of the Boone.

The leventh is the Alpects of the Moone and Planets, and a viobable codiecuce of the Meather.

No fooner Sol is in our Citie figne,
But Jove affronts him, Mars and venus joyne
With Hermes, Sun's eclips'd, it is no wonder,
If showers succeed tempestuous stormes of thunder,
To speake of other matters much, I dare not,
But thought is free, thinke what you will, & spare not.

Of the Moone D.

Lyna (omnium infimus) to called, quia aliena luce luceat, the goeth ber courle epery 27 Dayes, 7 boures, and 44 minutes: 02, as the verte faith,

Omnem mense polum Phoebe nocturna pererrat:

Per light is weak and mutatitious, eclipled somtimes by interpolition of the earth betweene her and the Sun, and somtimes the deprives us of the Suns light by interpoling her opacous and dark body between the Sun and vs. As this yeare upon Wednesday the 22 day of May at 4 of the clocke and 52 minutes pak in the afternoon. She is of a Phiegmatick nature, governes all moit bodies, as is palpable in the flure and reflure of the seas, in the li-fishes, and immerable other creatures. She is of the colour of sincer, where ill argento, ut & Sol Auro preest: yet by accident the repletents diverte colours, not in her supersises, but in the ayle about her; and there is a Prognosticke verse of the Moone, which sounds thus.

Pallida Luna pluit, rubicunda flat, alba ferenat:

If the Moone smile (the fourth day) 'twilbe faire,
But if the blush, we shall have blustring ayre;
And if her browes be mustled with a frown,
Most of that moneth shall sad teares trickle down.

The Moon is the earths Planet, nert to it, e immediately powerth on it the lively influence of the heavenly bodies. She is amongst the Planets ranguam Region, Marcs, & Nutrix.

Of the Dog-starre.

De Dog-farreis a celeftiall Signe fo called, fn Latin Canicala, Canis Sydus leporem fugientem fequitur; habet in linguaftellam que proprie appellatur Canis, magnam quidem & folendidam , in Capite alteram, quan nonnulli Sirium dicurt . and To Gongavat, id eft, ab hiando, quod lucem hiando emicrat, vel quod Canes cogat σεσαρήναι, id eft, ore hianti effe, pra vehementiffima fici, caufing bogs through the ertremity of beat, to lell their tongues, pant and gape. Others Debuce It me Te comever, ab exicoando, quia Sol calore fuo terram exicent, practipue quapdo com Sirio ornur. Baffirs in bis Commentaries feten, the Dog-fficte (that is, Sirids) is in the minule center of beauen (that is, the Solficial Colore) whole Genter is the Center of heauth, to which when the Dim approacheth, bis heat is boubten, and mens bobies become faint, this is the Winte is called the Dogidayes, becante the Dog barre is predominant, which continue the Space of 40 Dayes. But their beginning barfeth accotbing to the sturtley of times, and of the Dog Carres valfing from time to time by begreer from one Signe into another. Dere in England, and Come neare countrepes, they are oblerued to begin the 14 Kalends of August, which is the 19 day of the moneth July. Dowener the old berte faithe Margar : Canculas, Affamptio terminit Mas.

And inneed while the o is in St. the mort hot and dry Signe, is mult properly fain to be the Dog dayes: For in the Kalender the o entreth into St. neare . Margarets bay, and departeth thence about the Allumption of the bleffed dirgin: the one being the 13 of July, and the other the 15 of August.

Thus in some measure (being scanced of Paper) have becared the natures and effects of the 7 Planets, E. If what is collected be as patiently read, and renty vider-kood, as I have painefully must it, and honessly meant it, I shall (GOD willing, continuing to waite) think my labours well bestowed, and none have cause to complaine.
